"All the world's a stage;" or maybe its just all the drama we create in life that makes it seem so. Being a college student in America is dramatic to say the least. There may be no red carpet, very few re-takes, and often times one chance to get it right, but there's something special about the final, feature presentation.

Broncos participate and play an active roll in the annual festivities and spontaneous happenings on the FSU campus. Together we all make the show happen. Just like a director, our involvement affords us the ability to chart our own course -- presenting just the right mood and intensity.

Teacher of the Year

Dr. Peter Valenti

A Springfield, Massachusetts native, Dr. Peter Valenti began his tenure at Fayetteville State University in 1975. His membership in the FSU family started as an Assistant Professor in the Department of English. It is in this department that he has been able to effectively influence and nuture students' composition abilities. Dr. Valenti earned his Doctorate in English from the University of NC and has served in various capacities at Fayetteville State to include being a full professor, Chairman of the English Department, and Associate Dean for the College of Arts and Sciences. A published Professor, Dr. Valenti has earned numerous honors and awards with his most distinguished being 2001 - 2002 Teacher of the Year.

Employee of the Year

Mrs. Judith Fish

Mrs. Fish began her tenure in May, 1973. For the past 28 years, she has served the university in various capacities within the Office of the President, Office of Student Development, and School of Business and Economics. Routinely going above and beyond the call of duty, ensuring accuracy and fairness at all times, Mrs. Fish currently serves as Coordinator of Student Life and Judicial Affairs. Giving freely of herself, time and knowledge has afforded her the opportunity to become the recipient of numerous awards from the Student Government Association as well as commendations from many students throughout the years. It is this stellar service has earned her the honor of being named Staff Employee of the Year.

Fall Convocation

The 2001 Fall Convocation was held on September 6 in the Seabrook Auditorium. Patricia Russell-McCloud served as speaker at the official opening of the academic year. Russell-McCloud, a motivational speaker, told freshmen that they should go after what they want, never give up and let nothing stand in their way. She excited the audience with her dynamic style of speech and informed students that they face many choices in college. Other words of encouragement came from Board of Trustees member James Paige and Dr. Breeden Blackwell of the Cumberland County Board of Commissioners. Both individuals stressed planning as a key ingredient to success. That as a student, if you don't know where you're going, you might end up where you don't want to be; and if you fail to plan . . . plan to fail. Russell-McCloud told the students they were in a period of unprecedented growth and that the world was watching and waiting for them. Also during the ceremony, the Chancellor's Medallion award was presented to the Cumberland County Legislative delegation.

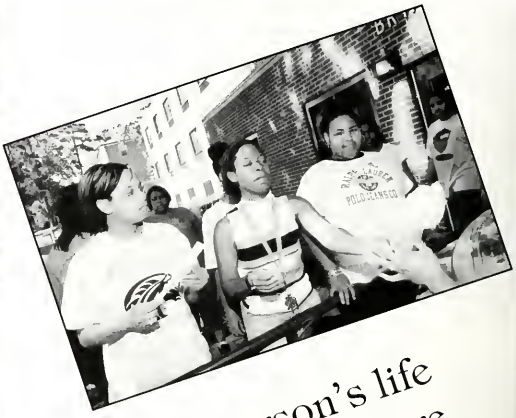
Bronco Life



The college years are a time in a person's life when sincere lasting bonds of friendship are forged. Socializing with suite-mates, club members and classmates is what makes School Daze memorable.

Intramurals

The Intramurals program runs from September to April and is open to all FSU students. Sports include flag football, volleyball and basketball. It is the hope of the director that tennis is implemented in the near future.

Gospel Explosion

On Tuesday, August 21, the Student Activities Council presented "Gospel Explosion '02" in the Seabrook Auditorium. Featured during this two-hour mini concert were Rodney Raines & the Emmanuel Fellowship Choir, FSU student Shontae Henry, and gospel mime act John A. and John E.

911 Prayer Vigil

On Tuesday, September 11, the US faced its most severe security breach in American History. An airborne terroist attack took place in New York and Washington DC. With a third attempt being made in Pittsburg, PA. Americans watched in horor as commercial aircrafts were used as bombs and flown into the World Trade Center toppling the Twin Towers. Minutes later, another plane was flown into the Pentagon. In a news conference from Florida, President Bush stated, "Freedom itself was attacked this morning and I assure you, freedom will be defended." The attacks sent the FSU family and surrounding community into a tailspin. Security was tightened at local military installations while students struggled to make sense of the tragedy. To aid in this effort, the SGA held a prayer vigil on September 12. During the ceremony, students offered one another words of encouragement and prayed for a wounded nation.

SGA Speakers Guild

Although HIV/AIDS has vanished from our news headlines, the SGA recognized the need for continued education on the deadly epidemic. In an effort to assist in this process, speaker Rae Lewis-Thornton spoke to the student body on the topic. Lewis-Thornton knows the devastating affect of this virus first hand because she lives with the virus everyday. During the program, she shared her experience with the hopes that her story would inevitably save a life.

Comedy Show

In conjunction with the Pontiac-Vibe-Motorola Comedy Tour, the Student Activities Council sponsored the "Off the Hook" comedy show featuring comedian Shang. During the show, students enjoyed free give-a-ways and also registered to win one of two Motorola 2-way text messaging pagers.

Honda Tournament

The Honda Campus All-Star Challenge is a jeopardy style competition between teams representing America's Historically Black Colleges and Universities. Teams vie for monetary grants totaling more than $300,000 at the national tournament in Orlando, Florida. On the campus of FSU, competing for a spot on the varsity team begins during the fall semester. Student organizations are encouraged to assemble teams from its membership rosters. However, individual students may who do sign up are randomly selected to play on various teams. To secure a varsity position, you must have one of the top five highest scores. The next five highest are placed on the junior varsity team.

The University has participated in this program for the past 13 years and continues to distinguish itself as a strong contender at the national level.

Jones Invitational

The Jones Invitational is sponsored annually by the Office of Student Activities. Honda teams assemble for intra-regional competition which affords them the opportunity to assess their strengths and weaknesses prior to competing at the national level.

Student Leaders

Student leadership is the cornerstone of student life. Its purpose is to create responsible government dedicated to the advancement of the student body. Use the opportunity during Spring elections to select A Few Good Men who are up to the challenge.

Student Leadership

The Student Leadership Program (SLP) is an eight week session in which participants gather informative, engaging, interactive leadership training. Students are put on the fast track to becoming campus leaders and are exposed to the concepts of leadership philosophies and principals. As part of leadership training, students attended the NASAP Student Leadership Institute during the summer of 2001 and the Tennessee State University Think Tank in February, 2002.

"How High"

FSU was selected as an advanced screening location for the collegiate comedy "How High" featuring Redman and Method Man. On December 5, Wynnsong Theater was filled with students who were determined enough to brave the bitter cold and stand in line hoping to get a seat.

Student Activities Council

One of the main objectives of the Student Activities Council was to provide avenues through which students could express their Bronco Pride. To assist in this effort, pep rallies were held to foster school spirit.

Mr. FSU Competition

On Sunday, October 14 the sixth annual Mr. FSU Competition was held in the Seabrook Auditorium. Seven young men vied for the title of "official ambassador of Bronco Pride". The contestants were judged in five categories: interview, athletic wear, self-expression, formal wear and student vote. In the opening number, choreographed by Shayla Watkins, the audience was quickly transported to the Ft. Bronco Officers' Club to witness the change of command. The reigning Mr. FSU, Henry Brown relinquished his crown to Anthony Raphael, Jr. a senior from Fayetteville, NC. First runner-up honors were bestowed upon Edwin Lewis, a junior from Rocky Mount while second runner-up went to Rufus Johnson, a junior from Richmond, Virginia. Akia Victor and Ricardo Morgan, both FSU graduates, served as Mistress and Master of Ceremonies.

On Thursday, October 18 in the Capel Arena Tai Irby, Miss Fayetteville State University and Anthony Raphael, Mr. FSU, presented more than 45 campus queens and kings during the annual Homecoming Coronation. In the days since the September 11 attacks, the country was strengthened by patriotism, heroism and charitable efforts. The battle was joined on many fronts. This was a unity of every faith, every race and every background . . . "One Heart, One Mind, One Nation". We will not waver; we will not tire; we will not falter; and we will not fail. Peace and freedom will prevail. The program opened with Rodney McCrowre performing Lift Ev'ry Voice and Sing. As the national anthem played, Air Force ROTC Det. 607 posted the colors. LaToya Watson a Junior from Fayetteville was crowned Miss Homecoming. Andrea Neal was first runner-up and Christa Leggette was second runner-up. Lamont Booker a Junior from Portsmouth, Virginia was named Mr. Homecoming. Donn Gerald was first runner-up and Anthony Hightower was named second runner-up.

Fine Arts Series

The Department of Performing and Fine Arts sponsored various programs during its 2001-02 Fine Arts Series. Most noteworthy performances were by pianist Leon Bates, composer Dr. Louise Toppin, and an evening of music with the Fayetteville Symphony. Other sponsored events included a Music Faculty Recital, Harpist Arcola Clark, Christmas at FSU, FSU Visual Art Senior Exhibit, Romeo and Juliet, and African American Art featuring the works of Alonzo Adams and Kenneth Gatewood. Funding for these programs was provided by grants through the NC Arts Council, National Endowment for the Arts, Arts Council of Fayetteville/Cumberland County, Southern Arts Federation and Pennsylvania Council of Arts.

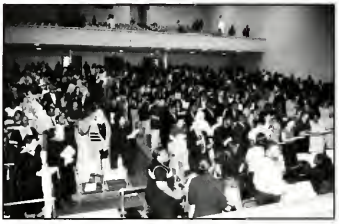
Honors and Awards

Right: Students wait to be recognized for their academic, community service and leadership achievements.



On April 11, the Forty-Fifth Annual Honors and Awards Convocation was held in the J. W. Seabrook Auditorium. The ceremony affords the University an opportunity to recognize and honor students for their outstanding achievements. Awards are presented for academic excellence and dedicated service. Guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. William T. Brown, member of the UNC Board of Governors.

Founders' Day

The 135th Founders' Day Convocation was held on April 14 in the J. W. Seabrook Auditorium. Keynote speaker for the occasion was former Chancellor Charles "A" Lyons. Dr. Lyons served as head of Fayetteville State University for over 18 years. He was elected president in 1969 and became chancellor in 1972, when the college entered the UNC System. In his address, Lyons gave students, faculty and alumni advice on how to secure the university's future. He contented that in order to protect the legacy we have to be proactive not reactive, and by being as determined and forthright as the seven founding fathers. He also encouraged student and alumni to give back to the community, nurture the children, and cultivate a world view. After his speech, Dr. Lyons was presented with the Chancelor's Medallion Award. Also during the ceremony, members of the class of 1951 were inducted into the Senior Academy. Following the program a pilgrimage was made to the Founders monument.

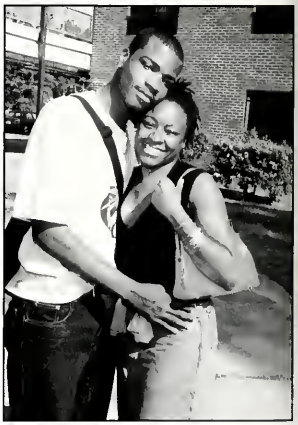
Rodeo Week

The last hoorah for the year was Rodeo Week which was held April 22 - 27. Broncos partied throughout the week to celebrate the end of the 2001 - 2002 academic year. Events sponsored by the Student Activities Council included:

- Monday: Video Karaoke
- Tuesday: Illusions Modeling Show
- Wednesday: Showtime at Seabrook
- Thursday: Blast from the Past dance and dance competition
- Friday: Midnight Pool Party
- Saturday: Bronco Family Reunion and Comic Relief Comedy Show
  - featuring: Small Frie, Roland and Dominique



Student Affairs Honors & Awards

On April 30 the annual Bronco Pride Awards Ceremony was held in the Butler Little Theater. During this event, which is patterned after Honor and Awards, students were recognized for their outstanding service, dedication and contributions to the various departments within the Division of Student Affairs. The highest awards were given to those individuals who have continuously participated in campus wide activities sponsored by the Division.

Seniors

On the most important day in May, seniors experience many emotions. They are separating from cherised friends, overcome with joy, and will soon face new challenges. Ready or not, this is not only graduation, but also Independence Day.

Winter Commencement

On December 15, pride and smiles lit up Capel Arena as 309 Broncos graduated. Julius Chambers, former chancellor of NCCU, informed the graduates that the word for the day was renaissance . . . humanistic renaissance. He urged them to become engines in the train of renaissance in whatever they do. In addition to Dr. Chambers, an honorary degree was also bestowed upon former state Sen. Irvin Belk. Belk, who recently pledged more than $300,000 to the University for a $500,000 endowed doctorate fellowship, was honored for his accomplishments in business and state government. Cum laude graduate, Shontae Henry, provided a musical tribute while Valedictorian and Salutatorian honors were received by Suzanne Sell and Nicole Walker.

Spring Commencement

Thousands of family members and friends gathered to cheer the class of 2002 at the Crown Coliseum. 353 students listened intently as Fayetteville Mayor, Marshall Pitts, Jr., delivered the commencement address. Pitts urged graduates to never make excuses, stay focused, be prepared and have confidence in themselves. He also told them that the world is a stage, that the curtain has been pulled back and it was time to perform. A performance, he added, that had to be better than anyone elses. During the ceremony, state Sen. Larry Shaw and wife were honored for fulfilling a $1 million donation to the university's capital campaign and scholarship fund. Valedictorian for Spring Commencement was Suzanne Hasseltine while Barbara Combs was awarded Salutatorian honors.

Juniors

Every student looks forward to their senior year. Whether high school or college, they know the journey will soon be over. Juniors find they are at a Point of No Return. They've come too far and overcome too many obstacles to turn back now.

Sophomores

The sophomore year can feel like The Longest Day of your college career. No longer a freshman, but not yet a junior can create the effect of treading water . . . working hard but going nowhere. Rest assured, the momentum does pick up and you'll be juniors before you know it.

Closing

The 2001 academic year has Gone With the Wind. As students packed trunks with suitcases, they realized that they were Outta Time. Some used this year to make a difference, while others simply followed the crowd. Because there is A Better Tomorrow to come, you can still blaze your trail at FSU.
